

PRESS RELEASE!

A completely new men's chorus is forming in Coventry, for a one-off concert in May as part of the Coventry University degree show.

If you enjoy singing pop classics, and you are a man, come along and join us! Experienced singers will have the opportunity to sing solos, while less experienced members will gain confidence singing in a large group of men.

The heart of this choir will be the community it makes. If you've seen Gareth Malone's TV shows then you will understand the benefits and fun that can be had singing in a choir.

There will be no auditions; everyone is welcome at our first rehearsal on January the 13th.

If you are a man, enjoy singing, meeting new people, and gaining new experiences/skills you should sign up! Either on the website, or by filling a form out and emailing to: Seb@MenCho.co or Jon@MenCho.co
